

REMARKS

This Request for Continued Examination (RCE) and preliminary amendment have been filed in response to the statement made in Examiner's Answer to Applicants' Appeal Brief. In particular, the Examiner has stated that had Applicants claimed the dynamic portion being sent from the server to the recipient, then the Examiner would have agreed that Jebens would not read on the recited claim. By this amendment, the independent claims all have been amended to specifically state that the dynamic data is automatically forwarded by said server to said receiving site only upon opening of the e-mail at the receiving site. While Applicants believe that this was clear as originally set forth, the claims, as currently amended, clearly set forth that the dynamic data is not sent to the recipient until opening of the e-mail at the receiving site.

In view of the foregoing it is respectfully submitted that the claims in their present form are in condition for allowance and such action is respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,
